Dear Rauno,

You are probably already well aware of the situation in the global market since the beginning of this year, which has not bypassed our industry. Supply chain issues, enlarged demand for materials and components, risen deficit, rising prices and many other factors affect many global players.

Over the past few months, we have made great efforts to be as reliable and efficient as possible and deliver goods on time, even in unprecedented market conditions that adversely affect our production planning. However, the deteriorating situation in the supply chain is already causing us serious challenges in meeting the planned deadlines. Due to the daily changing situation, the suppliers of material and components can no longer guarantee us the promised delivery times and agreed quantities even in a short time, which is why the situation changes daily in our production planning.

In view of this situation, we regret to inform you that, due to circumstances beyond our control, delays in the delivery times are possible in the near future. However, we want to ensure you that we make and continue to make every effort to manage these processes as much as possible and reduce the number of such cases.

Therefore, faster production of the AHU, order Order 9934248 -is not possible at this time. Expected delivery week 2.

Thank you for your understanding and we looking forward to continue successful cooperation with your company.

Yours sincerely,

Komfovent
