Dear Partners,

I hope this message finds you well. I'm writing to share the results of the COVE Call 2023. Regrettably, our application was not accepted this time.

I've attached the evaluation documents for your review.

Despite our concerted efforts to enhance the quality of our application, we only achieved a marginal increase of 3 points compared to our previous submission.

Notably, the project's relevance score was unexpectedly lower, despite our focused improvements especially in this area.

This outcome, while disappointing, presents us with an opportunity to reassess and strategize for the future. I would greatly appreciate your insights and suggestions on how we can improve and proceed from here.

Your feedback is valuable, and together, I'm confident we can chart a path forward.

Wishing you a productive day ahead.

Best Regards,

Jouni
